Personal Profile

I'm an undergraduate student in Yangzhou University. I'm interested in web programming. In future, I want to be a professional web programmer. I want to master couple of web technology . Mostly I love working on Django And django_rest for the server side and vue for the client side and have some experience on asp.net (mvc). I want to learn more through working. Because I believe best way to learn something is by working on it. I have several project in my Github.
